The motion hearing is held. The scheduling conference is held in both matters. The Court confers with counsel regarding the status of the case and the parties' respective Joint Reports. Counsel shall confer and file a joint scheduling report in each case within 14 days of the written ruling on the Motion, which shall include: (i) a revised set of proposed dates consistent with the Court's tentative views on scheduling; (ii) whether the parties believe it would be most efficient to have one mediation session with one private neutral or whether each case should proceed on its own schedule with respect to settlement; and (iii) how best to proceed with the derivative action.
